

Figure 5. Field photos of D1 structures from domain A. All surfaces are subvertical. A: Striped gneiss with compositional layering (S1) defined by alternating light colored layers of granitic composition and dark layers that are biotite and amphibolite rich. B: Mica–quartz schist with a steeply plunging stretching lineation (L1) developed on the subvertical S1 foliation. C and D: σ -type structures indicating top-to-SE movement.